INDEX TO VOLUME LXVII, 1981

Academic Disciplines and Undergraduate Liberal Arts Education, Frederick Stirton Weaver, 151

Attitudinal Problems and the Writing Center, Gary A. Olson, 310

Bass, Randy, The Role of the Student on a Committee for Academic Reform, 124

Becker, William H., A Collegial Approach to Faculty Development, 19

Benezet, Louis T. and Frances W. Magnusson, Enrollment-Driven Colleges and the Prospects of State Planning, 336

Benner, Richard S. and David L. Potter, Life/Career Planning and the Liberal Arts, 71

Bernstein, Alison, Romance, Precision, Generalization: The Study of Women in the Liberal Arts Curriculum, 196

Bowker, Lee H., The College Dean: A Case of Miscommunication about the Importance of Teaching, 319

Braithwaite, Roland, A Minority Perception of Liberal Education: The Example of Talladega College, 219

Brinton, Alan, Logic and the Liberal Arts Curriculum, 254

Broderick, Francis L., A Checklist for the Humanities, 166

Bruffee, Kenneth A., The Structure of Knowledge and the Future of Liberal Education, 177

Cady, Duane L., Making Contact: Students and Faculty on Speaking Terms, 293

Checklist for the Humanities, A, Francis L. Broderick, 166

College Dean: A Case of Miscommunication about the Importance of Teaching, The, Lee H. Bowker, 319

College's Ethos: A Neglected Key to Effectiveness and Survival, A, Douglas H. Heath, 89

INDEX TO VOLUME LXVII, 1981

Academic Disciplines and Undergraduate Liberal Arts Education, Frederick Stirton Weaver, 151

Attitudinal Problems and the Writing Center, Gary A. Olson, 310

Bass, Randy, The Role of the Student on a Committee for Academic Reform, 124

Becker, William H., A Collegial Approach to Faculty Development, 19

Benezet, Louis T. and Frances W. Magnusson, Enrollment-Driven Colleges and the Prospects of State Planning, 336

Benner, Richard S. and David L. Potter, Life/Career Planning and the Liberal Arts, 71

Bernstein, Alison, Romance, Precision, Generalization: The Study of Women in the Liberal Arts Curriculum, 196

Bowker, Lee H., The College Dean: A Case of Miscommunication about the Importance of Teaching, 319

Braithwaite, Roland, A Minority Perception of Liberal Education: The Example of Talladega College, 219

Brinton, Alan, Logic and the Liberal Arts Curriculum, 254

Broderick, Francis L., A Checklist for the Humanities, 166

Bruffee, Kenneth A., The Structure of Knowledge and the Future of Liberal Education, 177

Cady, Duane L., Making Contact: Students and Faculty on Speaking Terms, 293

Checklist for the Humanities, A, Francis L. Broderick, 166

College Dean: A Case of Miscommunication about the Importance of Teaching, The, Lee H. Bowker, 319

College's Ethos: A Neglected Key to Effectiveness and Survival, A, Douglas H. Heath, 89

Collegial Approach to Faculty Development, A, William H. Becker, 19

Competencies for Department Chairpersons: Myths and Realities, Edward J. Jennerich, 46

Conrad, Clifton F. and Anne M. Pratt, Everyman's Undergraduate Curriculum: A Question of Humanistic Context, 168

Crimmel, Henry H., A Reply to Professor Brinton, 261

Davis, Michael L. and Jerry G. Gaff, Student Views of General Education, 112

Developmental Assumptions Underlying Models of General Education, Nancy R. Goldberger, 233

Eaton, Judith S., Strategies for Survival: Executive Women in Higher Education, 209

Enrollment-Driven Colleges and the Prospects of State Planning, Louis T. Benezet and Frances W. Masnusson, 336

Everett, Michael D., The Impact of Student Evaluations of Teaching on the Quality of Education, 327

Everyman's Undergraduate Curriculum: A Question of Humanistic Context, Anne M. Pratt and Clifton F. Conrad, 168

Gaff, Jerry G. and Michael L. Davis, Student Views of General Education, 112

Goldberger, Nancy R., Developmental Assumptions Underlying Models of General Education, 233

Harris, William, Independent Learning in the Classroom: A New Approach, 298

Heath, Douglas H., A College's Ethos: A Neglected Key to Effectiveness and Survival, 89

Hill, Patrick J., Medium and Message in General Education, 129

Hurwitz, Ellen S., Teaching About Men and Women in History: Experimenting in Curricular Reform, 205

Impact of Student Evaluations of Teaching on the Quality of Education, The, Michael D. Everett, 327

Independent Learning in the Classroom: A New Approach, William Harris, 298

Interim: Academic Strength Through Uniqueness, The, Lee M. Swan, 304

Jennerich, Edward J., Competencies for Department Chairpersons: Myths and Realities, 46

Kimball, Bruce A., Liberal vs. Useful Education: Reevaluating the Historical Appeals to Benjamin Franklin and Aristotle, 286

Liberal Education in a World Come of Age, Melvin A. Vulgamore, 146

Liberal Learning for Both Sexes, Ruth Schmidt, 200

Liberal vs. Useful Education: Reevaluating the Historical Appeals to Benjamin Franklin and Aristotle, Bruce A. Kimball, 286.

Life/Career Planning and the Liberal Arts, Richard S. Benner and David L. Potter, 71.

Literature and Academic Administration: A Proposal for a Course Not Found in the Higher Education Curriculum, Robert Shoenberg, 10

Living with Paradox: The Liberal Arts and Academic Administration, Thomas R. McFaul, 36

Logic and the Liberal Arts Curriculum, Alan Brinton, 254

Longino, Helen E., Scientific Objectivity and Feminist Theorizing, 187

McFaul, Thomas R., Living with Paradox: The Liberal Arts and Academic Administration, 36

Magnusson, Frances W. and Louis T. Benezet, Enrollment-Driven Colleges and the Prospects of State Planning, 336

Making Contact: Students and Faculty on Speaking Terms, Duane L. Cady, 293

Medium and Message in General Education, Patrick J. Hill, 129

Minority Perception of Liberal Education: The Example of Talladega College, A, Roland Braithwaite, 219

Notes on the Relevance of Life Course Research to Liberal Arts Curriculum, Douglas L. Robertson, 244

Olson, Gary A., Attitudinal Problems and the Writing Center, 310

Patterson, W. Brown, Renaissance Views of the Liberal Arts, 275

Payne, Harry, The Renaissance of Liberal Arts: Historical Reflections on an Idea, 263

Potter, David L., and Richard S. Benner, Life/Career Planning and the Liberal Arts, 71

Pratt, Anne M., and Clifton F. Conrad, Everyman's Undergraduate Curriculum: A Question of Humanistic Context, 168

Reflections Upon Academic Administrative Life, Robert Allen Skotheim, 1

Renaissance of Liberal Arts: Historical Reflections on an Idea, The, Harry Payne, 263

Renaissance Views of the Liberal Arts, W. Brown Patterson, 275

Reply to Professor Brinton, A, Henry H. Crimmel, 261

Robertson, Douglas L., Notes on the Relevance of Life Course Research to Liberal Arts Curriculum, 244

Role of the Student on a Committee for Academic Reform, The, Randy Bass, 124

Romance, Precision, Generalization: The Study of Women in the Liberal Arts Curriculum, Alison Bernstein, 196

Schmidt, Ruth, Liberal Learning for Both Sexes, 200

Scientific Objectivity and Feminist Theorizing, Helen E. Longino, 187

Shoenberg, Robert, Literature and Academic Administration: A Proposal for a Course Not Found in the Higher Education Curriculum, 10

Skotheim, Robert Allen, Reflections upon Academic Administrative Life, 1

Strategies for Survival: Executive Women in Higher Education, Judith S. Eaton, 209

Structure of Knowledge and the Future of Liberal Education, The, Kenneth A. Bruffee, 177

Student Views of General Education, Jerry G. Gaff and Michael L. Davis, 112

Swan, Lee M., The Interim: Academic Strength Through Uniqueness, 304

Teaching About Men and Women in History: Experimenting in Curricular Reform, Ellen S. Hurwitz, 205

Vulgamore, Melvin L., Liberal Education in a World Come of Age, 146

Weaver, Frederick Stirton, Academic Disciplines and Undergraduate Liberal Arts Education, 151